

EONS President Elect

The Role in Summary

The EONS President Elect is a Member of the Executive Board. The role has a two year term of office. Only in exceptional condition is the term extended or terminated according to the EONS by-laws. After serving a minimum of one successful year term as President Elect, the post holder becomes the President and, after another two year successful term, becomes the Past President.

Each of the three presidential roles usually has a two year term of office, making a six year commitment in total. Since it is possible for the role of President Elect to last just one year, in such an instance the total commitment to the presidential roles becomes five years.

Once a person has been elected to the position of President Elect, neither the Advisory Council nor the Executive Board can alter the succession of that person to the Presidency unless he/she vacates office during his/her term as President Elect or grounds arise for deposing him/her from that position.
